Life is... Unpredictable

EXPRESSION OF SPIRIT

During Nauset's Spirit Week everyone showed their expressive side. Creative attire and lots of school spirit made it the greatest week of the school year!

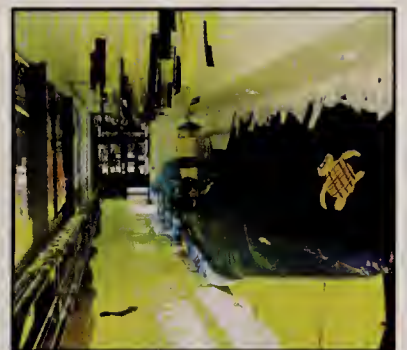

Life is... Spirited!

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT!

Let's GO Nauset

Spirit week started off with pattern wars of polka-dots, stripes, tie-dye, and plaid. When Tuesday came around, everyone came to school as a fictional character. Thursday, sailors washed ashore for Nautical Day. Finishing off the week was everyone's favorite Black and Gold Day.

A Walk To The Beach...

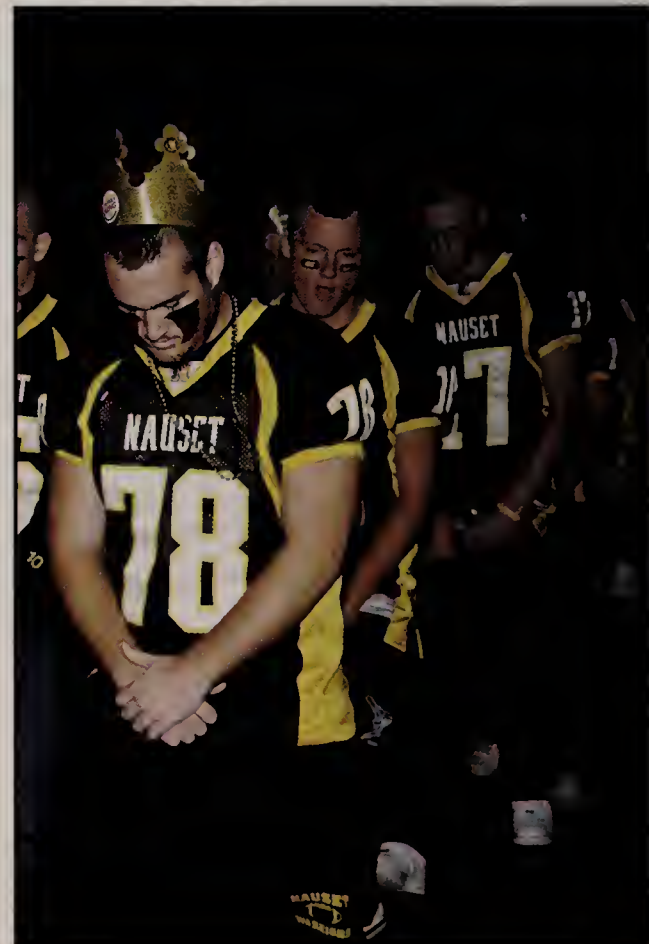

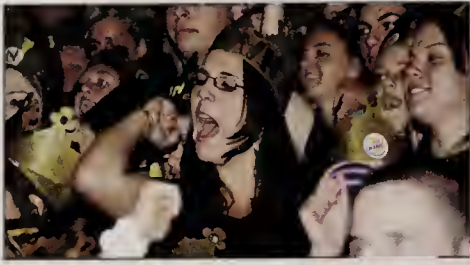

SENIORS

Life is... good for the Class of 2011. On a perfect November day, the seniors walk to Nauset Light Beach for their class photo. For the third consecutive year, the event has been planned and organized by the yearbook staff; making it more than just a photo day but a special day to remember. We would like to give thanks to the administration, faculty and policemen for their support. The day was a success and seniors left the beach with sand in their shoes and memories in their hearts.

I'll start with the typical "Wow! What an amazing last four years". My Freshman year showed me the ropes of high school, how classes were run, what this mysterious "rotating block" was, and the upper-classmen pecking order. I moved up to my Sophomore year, a year full of standardized testing and more work than any school boy could possibly imagine. Junior year was phenomenal. I made most of my friends this year, all of which are amazing and I couldn't live without them. I also had three great years of track and hope for another this year to finish strong. Now I'm off to college and to conquer the world. Thank you Nauset, for all that you have shown and given me.

The past four years have progressively gotten better. I don't think there was a time when I wasn't looking to the future, but looking back I can see that I've come further than expected. The decisions I make now will affect my entire life, but the things I have gained up until now will be tools to make those decisions more accurately. Thank you all who have helped me thus far; I hope to see you in my future.

Dad- I never could have done this without your inspiration and love pushing me to achieve more than I ever could. Amber & Chaun- Love you guys. Sarah- From the beginning you've always been there, no matter what. Kristina- You're the peanut butter to my jelly. To my swimming guppies, high school would be nothing without our swimming adventures. To all the others, this isn't goodbye this is hello to better things ahead.

So much has been gained and lost, but still my life is only just beginning. I can honestly say that I'm glad it's over and I don't have to come back. There's no guarantee I'm ever going to use what I learned, but still... I am glad to start the rest of my life leaving Nauset and not some other school. So, since I don't know what else to say, I guess this is it. See ya.

Mom and Dad, I know I wasn't the perfect child, but thanks for sticking it out with me. I won't ever forget those all-nighters and sleepovers with Austin and Nick. Well here it is, senior year. Yesterday we were all just scared little freshmen. I am the last of the Rasmussen legacy. I have finally found my place and now it's time to leave. We will all be scared freshmen once more in college, and so the cycle goes on. I could not have gotten here without my family, and every friend that was brave enough to stand beside me. High school was not easy, but I know I will be better for it. I am proud to call myself a Nauset grad.

Wait, never mind. I've mastered web tests, gotten results with no excuses, recycled a countless amount of bottles, had an awkward pocket, played Chameleon one too many times and figured out what kind of person I want to become. Best of luck to everyone, thank you!

Evan Ridley

These past four years certainly went much faster than I anticipated. I feel so lucky to have spent them at Nauset. I was always in the company of good friends and great teachers. Both athletics and academics have given me countless memories that I will always remember happily. I would like to give special thanks to both Mr. Clark and Mrs. Kersteen who were not only extraordinary history teachers, but were essential to the success of my Independent Study project. I also want to thank all of my English teachers for helping instill my love for writing and literature.

"The mind is everything.
What you think you become."
- Buddha

Mary Amelia Robinson

It blows my mind that these four years are already over. I'm still not ready for it all to be over, but some things tell me that it is time that it is. As a class we have grown and changed and ended up being a class that produced more good students than bad ones. I wish everyone in the class of 2011 the best of luck after high school, whatever they do. And everyone remember that life is too short to be anything but happy. I couldn't have done this and become the person I am without my parents, the three of them, my sister, brother, and my best friends. Thank you.

Thanks mom for putting up with me all year. This is my first and last year at Nauset. It's tough being a new student in a new school, especially as a senior. I miss everybody in New Jersey but I hope to meet new friends here.

Evan Rotini

"I could have tried harder, but I wouldn't have had as much fun these years."

- Unknown

After transferring schools and moving a state over by myself junior year, I thought school for the next two years was going to be a joke and I'd be lucky if I didn't drop out. After getting to Nauset though, the support I had from friends, my guardian and cousins I was living with, and even some family from back home made me want to keep going with school. I want to thank my guardians for giving me a place to live and pushing me to go to school and my family in Connecticut. Also, a thanks to Nauset for giving me the chance to do night school and graduate.

Zach Rowell

As I look back and think of all the people who have impacted my life over the last four years, and how many of them will depart from it as graduation sends us all on our own journeys, I'm proud to say that I was part of the 2011 class. I remember back to freshman and sophomore years and how this moment seemed like a lifetime away. And of course baseball with Coach Baker, who's inspirational speeches often referenced the 'dirty dozen' and how we should aim higher than him, on and off the field.

I, Shäun Smith, bequeath hiding sandwiches in the courtyard to Brian Zayatz.

It's true what they say about how fast high school goes. It seems yesterday we were scared and confused freshmen thrust into the enigmatic world of high school. Now in retrospect I look back at the time at Nauset and reflect on the personal growth that myself and my classmates underwent. As our roads lead us down different paths I hope everyone gets the chance to chase their own dream and become what it is they want.

Catherine Snow

For all my family/friends that I consider family, I owe you the world, thank you. Syd, I'm glad I had a cousin to go through this with; I couldn't have done it alone. People always say that with every door that closes another opens. While it's true that this is the end of four excellent years I know that the door to those years will never close on me. I've met some of the best friends I will ever have, made some of the fondest memories, and most of all enjoyed almost every minute of it. Even though it may seem like the end of an era, it's also the beginning of a new one. Life doesn't end at graduation; we all have so much more living to get done! It's been an amazing ride getting here, so "Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to great places! You're off and away!"

It's hard to believe that this is the last of our four years here at Nauset. This year will certainly fly by, eclipsed by the plethora of things to get done. It is difficult to imagine, but in less than a year we will be in college, no longer youth but adults in the real world. I've had a great time here, and I look forward to many new adventures down the road. I wish my fellow seniors the best of luck in all your futures. Life will fly by, so take in as much of it as you can.

I want to thank all my awesome teachers, family members, and all of my friends for making the past four years at NRHS unforgettable. I know in my heart that this is the best high school anyone can possibly attend. There is not one bad "thing" about NRHS. In the last four years of my life, I have realized three of the most important lessons of my life. You should always try to make the best of your life, as life is precious. You should always be kind to people, even if they are not kind to you. Try hard at everything, even if you don't succeed, don't give up, try again. I wish the best of luck to everyone at NRHS. I hope high school will change you, maybe by learning, socializing, or even changing your ideas about the future. It has changed me, and for that I am grateful. Thank you!

Nicholas Phillip Suchecki

It's unique how the generations of school work. We live as every generation shifts through its many years of education, influences us, and places its own individual marks on the timeline. Our class has now etched their final inscriptions into the Nauset stone, and I'm proud to say I've matured with many highly successful individuals. Friends, family, and teachers, thank you for helping me become who I am. I wish you all success and happiness in all the good that you do and love.

To all my teachers who have helped me, I thank you. By far my best classes were Mr. Wright's history, Mr. Castellano's criminology class, and Mr. Hoyt's wood shop. I find myself blessed to have gone to Nauset. The experiences I've had and the friends I have made are among the best of my life. XC, Track, Scouts, all the relationships (Good and bad) I've had, they have all left a mark on me. I find myself saddened by leaving Nauset, but feel proud of what we have done. As we now depart, we leave behind four earth-shattering years. Let's make the next four even better, as we travel down life's way. Always ready, ladies and gentlemen. Remember this.

I'll never forget the first day I started high school here. At first I was worried, but I met some really nice upperclassmen, and one of them took me under their wing. Now that I look back, at all the chaotic moments, I'm still very grateful to be here; I met some great people, went to some awesome classes, and got to do the one thing I could never be able to do at my old, clique-obsessed school: I finally could be myself, and nobody would care how "weird" it looked.

I, Marina Wells, bequeath the bunny suit to Savannah, shirt parties to Andrew, gold to the future Honors Chorus, biochar to Green Club, and all my heart to Nauset Cross Country.

Morgan Wells

So, as much as I pretend I didn't enjoy it, I kind of did. Special thanks to everyone who gave me extra credit here and there to graduate: Mrs. McCully, Ms. McMillin, Ms. McGown, Mr. Davies, and Judy Hamer.

"It's a little childish and stupid, but then, so is high school."
- Matthew Brodrick, Ferris Bueller's Day Off

I, Morgan Wells, bequeath my complete lack of motivation to Georgia Zinn.

Angela West

"Everybody talks and everybody listens, but somehow it's always the truth that comes up missing."
- Drake

Margaret Whelan

"All the roads we have to walk are winding, and all the lights that lead us there are blinding."

– Oasis

I, Maggie, Whelan, bequeath unlimited car rides to school to Joe, fun nights out with the girls to Jaime, and Katie two more awesome years of high school, and Ralph.

These four years have gone by so fast! When I first moved here four years ago I never thought I'd meet so many great people and travel to amazing places with sports. Mom, Dad, Katie – you guys are the best. Thanks for always being there for me. Caity and Emily – My best friends through everything. To all my friends that I've met at Nauset, I love you all! Thanks for the great times and memories. To all my coaches, you have made me the person I am today. Best of luck Class of 2011 – WE DID IT!

Amber White

"Keep your eyes on the stars and your feet on the ground."

– Theodore Roosevelt

An intense summer of work and long days at the beach, followed by my senior year at Nauset. And although many seniors are going to say this, I would like to thank my family for helping through my years of school and inspiring me to follow my dreams, I love you all dearly. A special thanks to Mrs. Grozier (Mommy Grozier). Thank you to all my friends both old and new for making this year a very eventful one, may we have many more fun times and stay out of trouble in the process?

Lukas Williams

Ruby Wolf

I thought I was going to write something ridiculous here. But ultimately, this was more important. Have you ever seen the movie "To Sir, With Love," with Sidney Poitier? This teacher comes into a classroom of brokendown kids and shows them what its like in the real world. He shapes them into "men and women". It's my senior year and I guess I always thought Sir would come through the door and show me where to go from here. He never did, but I'm glad. I got to figure it out alongside some really beautiful people. I may not know everything, but at least I know that I don't know, you know? To ALL of you, with love.

"We will be members of the world."
-Frankie Addams

I, Ruby Wolf, bequeath all my worldly possessions to Ross S. Berry.

Keenan Yakola

Is it really already here? It seems like just yesterday my backpack was filled (WAY too much) and I was walking to my first day at the high school. Now, I am already graduating! I have learned to put my fears aside and try something new... golf and swimming, and to make the best of everything. Thank you so much, especially to my family and friends for encouraging me to challenge myself and do my best.

"Life moves pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it."
- Ferris Bueller's Day Off

I, Keenan Yakola, bequeath the Nauset baseball team to Ben Rome and twelve varsity letters to my all-star brother, Hayden.

Lindsey Ann Youngman

I never thought that I'd be that kid- the one in the TV show that you've always thought was so old because they were finishing school, never thought that you'd ever be like them, the one graduating. Well, here we are! Mom, Dad, and Danielle, you're the most important and incredible people I know and have in my life. I love you more than the universe and always will! Giggle Group, let's keep the world laughing! To everyone so far and in the future: Smile, it makes life easier.

"Hakunamatata."
-The Lion King

I, Lindsey Youngman, bequeath Sara and Libby the square, Tori the left side (STRONG SIDE!), Abbie random and mysterious air balls, and Grace Kobold the position of Chicken Little #5."

Kara Zoni

"One day your life will flash before your eyes. Make sure its worth watching."

- Unknown

I, Kara Zoni, bequeath Connor Jacobus an unforgettable senior year, and Kiana the Sparrow, hold it down for me.

"Don't cry because its over, smile because it happened." I never expected the past four years to fly by so fast. Dad- You've been there for me through everything. I don't know where I would be without you. You mean the world to me, I love you. Kristen & Mike- You've helped me to become who I am today. Tess, Kylie, Jen- Always keeping me laughing. Only the best memories with you girls. Ruby- thanks for always being there; sisters forever. To the rest of the crew- Thanks for making my high school experience what it was. Stay classy '11!

Life is...

finding a way to make it all happen...

When people think of senior year, you often think of the homecoming dance and games, prom, graduation, and a tremendous amount of fun and excitement. What we don't always think about is all of the stress and hard work that goes into planning these events. The senior officers, senior senate, and class advisors, are the ones responsible for making all of these things happen. Whether it's car washes, fundraising, raffles, or planning a visit from Santa, these determined people work hard throughout the year to make sure the class of 2011 has the best senior year possible!

Ho Ho Ho! Christmas came early this year when student officers arranged for Santa (Mr. Hicks) and one of his elves (senior advisor Mr. Wright) to come to school for a day of pictures. All of the money raised went straight to the Class of '11.

"The potential for the class of 2011 is undeniable. Our strength and determination makes us different from past classes that have walked through the courtyard. Yet, it is not only our ambition that makes us unique, but our true care and kindness for others. Together we have created what I believe is the ideal high school experience."

Project Graduation

After graduation, seniors have the opportunity to go on a boat cruise around Boston harbor, free of charge, for a night full of fun activities. Mrs. Mabile, along with parent volunteers have been working hard for many months, fundraising and planning this event, so seniors can safely celebrate their graduation together.

Diane Campbell works diligently organizing and coordinating all senior week festivities including graduation.

Rock the Mic

Lily Harrington dresses as Lady Gaga, covered in balloons, while she sings "Bad Romance" (left).

The Chiquita Bananas band featured Anna Hirst playing an acoustic guitar along with Savannah Hollis singing "Rythum of Love" (below).

March is a long month of academics with no breaks, so to add a spark, Nauset holds a March Madness week. Students dress up and show their spirit with days including pajama day, carpool day, Mardi Gras and black & gold day. As the week came to an end, students gathered in the auditorium Friday night to watch their fellow peers perform at Rock the Mic. The student performers played instruments, sang, danced and dressed up to show their musical talents, as hundreds of students cheered from the seats.

Toby Ellis, with a broken arm, shows everyone how talented he is at playing the drums (below).

Shawn Simpson, Nick Suchecki, Tommy Read and Rob Czujak play in their band Bright Funk. To kick off the second half of the night, they play some popular tunes.

The Bikini Bottom Marching Band performed "The Campfire Song", and "When I Ripped My Pants" by Spongebob Squarepants (above).

The energy was high and so were the spirits of the Nauset students!

School Within a School is an alternative program offered to students who are looking for a different way of learning. It explores the views and opinions of different types of people, and gives a voice to those who may not have had one before. In addition to english and history classes, they also hike in the White Mountains before school starts, travel to Philadelphia, and have many guest speakers relating to what students are learning. Diane Keon, Karen Novacon, and Paul Davies are all exceptional leaders of this program.

“This year was an extraordinary year for SWS. The Junior class was brought together and quickly became a family. Even though it was only their first year in the program, the students worked like a “finely tuned machine” and a sense of togetherness was apparent, no matter what they were doing. The program changed the lives of many students, juniors and seniors alike.”

Life is... Giving Back

Jessica Counsell is a senior who continues to give her time helping the community. She spends her time at the Charles Moore Arena in Orleans, teaching children how to skate and helping out the rink.

John Vitale is the only freshman with over 100 hours. He was able to add up his many hours over this past summer, by volunteering at the Brewster Recreation program for young children.

Sarah Knop is a senior with over 100 hours. She plans to study athletic training after graduation in the fall. To prepare, she volunteers for Michelle Pavlu, helping the athletic department.

Cameron Trudeau is a junior with over 100 hours of community service this year. Cameron offers his help at the Food Pantry in Harwich, where they donate food to families in need year-round.

Heather Rosato, a junior, always has given over 100 hours each year. She interns for the Firebirds in Orleans during the summer, and for Michelle Pavlu with athletic training.

Robert Burns has the most community service hours in his junior class. Robert works at the Eastham Library, Nauset high school library and helps out at the Provincetown Town Hall over the summers.

Samantha Gage is a senior who spends her community service hours at the Charles Moore Arena for the Junior Pro skating program.

Taylor Sheehan is a junior with over 100 hours. Taylor is the manager for our basketball teams.

Led by senior captains, Tyler Savonen, Jimmy Quigley, and Ben Altneu, the team grew as a family throughout the season and managed to show everyone their individual talents.

Throughout the whole season, they were there to support the entire team with their loud, spirited cheers and stunts. At their ACL competition the girls put forth their amazing talent, ending their memorable season.

"Definitely a season to remember! All of you girls have, without a doubt, made our high school years unforgettable. Love the memories we have made together from 'team sleepovers' to Friday night games. We are all called teammates, but we consider you our sisters. Thank you girls for all of your hard work and making us feel so proud to be your captains." - Captains, Cody Pedersen, Candice Demers and Tessa Davis

FOR THE CLUBS AT NAUSET

Clubs are an important part of Nauset Regional High School. They designate days of the week so new or returning members know when to meet. Some clubs have dances or a get togethers to make everyone in the club feel welcome, while others may hold fund-raisers either for their club or for a good cause.

Key Club is the high school division of Kiwanis International. This year the Nauset Key Club held a fundraiser to collect non-perishable food items to help families that can not afford these items. All the items collected were given to the local food pantry. All grades in Nauset participated in this food drive and the grade with the highest amount of food collected a prize. Along with supporting local organizations and charities, they also do a lot of community service.

Everyday for all three lunches a few members from the Best Buddies club set up a stand to sell fruit and other goodies for affordable prices. The funds from this stand go towards trips and activities that the Best Buddies club participates in. Some activities that our Best Buddies club took part in were a dance on St. Patrick's Day and a Christmas dance, The Special Olympics and a special ride in a limo to the Senior Prom!

Students are extremely fortunate at Nauset High School to have the opportunity to explore a wide variety of art related subjects. From photography to metal arts, there is something to interest every student.

In Mr. Craven's room students create metal masterpieces. His metal arts classes introduce them to fine metals and teaches to cut, file, braze and form. The new Bike Frame building class teaches students how to construct a steel bicycle.

In Sculpture, students explore clay make non-functional creations. Ms. Kandall emphasizes the importance of finding personal style.

CLAY I CLASSES ARE GIVEN AN INTRODUCTION INTO COIL, SLAB BUILD, PINCH AND WHEEL THROW.

CLAY II STUDENTS HAVE MORE INDEPENDENCE AS THEY WOULD LEARN A NEW TECHNIQUE AND THEN HAVE A WEEK TO DO A PROJECT OF CHOICE PRACTICING THAT LEARNED SKILL.

WHEEL THROWING CLASSES MAKE MORE FUNCTIONAL PIECES WHICH CAN BE USED FOR PERSONAL USE.

MR. HOYT'S year long guitar building class begins with a pile of wood, from which a beautiful acoustic or electric guitar is created. He also teaches a woodshop class where they make cabinets, tables, chairs and bird houses.

Sydney Bodamer and Michael Vaughan measure off flour during their Baking & Pastries class. This year long class gets to work with an experienced cake decorator as well as make treats for school functions such as graduation. Culinary I is a beginner's class in which students are taught the basics about cooking and baking. In Culinary II students get to pick a country, research it and then bring in a native food for an international buffet.

FINE ARTS

Last year, 75 students from Studio 1, Studio 2, Honors Portfolio, and Advanced Placement Art history took part in creating an eleven panel mural detailing "A Time Line of Art History and Pop Culutre." It begins with Egyptian Art and goes through recognizable works in art, finishing with the 60's, 70's and 80's. It is now hung in the library for all students and staff to enjoy (botton center).

DRAMA

LIFE IS... A STAGE

Switching Roles.

The role of the Doctor in Dracula was originally played by Tommy Walsh; however, during one of the shows when Tommy couldn't attend, Evan Newton performed the role.

REACHING FOR HER MASTER.

Actress Ruby Wolf of the Nauset's Honors Acting program plays a follower of Dracula who is being treated in a mental hospital and believes she is going to be transformed into one of his kind.

The drama department, led by Judy Hamer, performed three extravagant plays this school year. The first was Dracula which had the audience sitting on the edge of their seats. Second, there was Dog Sees God; it was a modern twist of Charlie Brown and had some leaving with tears in their eyes. In the spring, they performed Hello Dolly, a story about the meddling of Mrs. Dolly Levi and her effort to obtain a half-millionaire husband. Ruby Wolf, Madeleine Kobold, Eric Oxtoby, Nick Verdi, and Cody Beltis won the Excellence in Acting Award and Christina Koch, Nick Verdi, and Ethan Hansen won the Excellence in Sound Design Award. Judy Hamer, Sam Paine, and Bob Lewis are the main drive for these shows. Without them none of this would be possible. Congratulations to everyone!

CAST OF DOG SEE'S GOD

S. Garside, H. Smith, M. Kobold, C. Koch (top row), S. Paine, M. Munroe, Director Judy Hamer, C. Godwin, E. Newton, T. Walsh (middle row), E. Hansen, C. Beltis, N. Verdi, R. Wolf, E. Oxtoby (front row).

Dog Sees God was about the high school life of the Peanut characters. After Charlie Brown's (CB) dog dies he struggles to grasp the concept of where dogs go once they die. The play pulls in the issues of homophobia and homosexuality as well as bullying and drinking issues among teens. The Drama department thought it would be a good way to show the struggle that some teens go through while in high school.

Too Much to Handle. Christina Koch looks after Madeleine Kobold after she has passed out from too much alcohol at the party [above].

“The chance to collaborate with so many talented people makes Nauset Drama the amazing experience it is, every year. From the freshmen to the seniors, every cast this year have been equally amazing. Everyone rules!

...Full of Memories

IN THE BLINK OF AN EYE

To be yourself in a world that is constantly trying to make you something else is the greatest accomplishment

Ralph Waldo Emerson

Dear Rob

*We hear so much of troubled youth
Who break their parents heart
But count us with the lucky ones
We knew it from the start
From sports and Scouts, the trumpet too
All good things filled the day
A lot of work and answered prayers
Helped you turn out this way*

*So down the road of life you go
With tools you forged so far
Unsure of what the future holds
For you our rising star
The best advice that we can give
Is simple but not new
To find your place and happiness
To thine own self be true*

Congratulations

Love you forever, Like you for always, As long as we're living, Our baby you'll be... From the first day we dropped you off at the Learning Garden, the years have flown by way too fast. It has been a constant joy to watch you grow into the beautiful, independent person you have become; we couldn't have hoped for a better daughter or sister. Your hard work and dedication amazes us, you always make us feel so very blessed to be your parents. There are no words to express how proud we are of you and your many accomplishments!

It's not easy, but we know it is time for us to let you go into much in the fall (more than you can imagine); the house will feel empty without your smile and 'fiery' conversations, but we know you're ready to move on and will be a success in anything you choose to do. Enjoy the journey and may all your dreams come true -- because you deserve all the great things life can bring! Congratulations, Tay! We will always be SPONTANEOUS!

Life is... Yearbook!

For the People who make it happen!

The Yearbook Staff has worked diligently throughout the year to create an exciting and accurate book of memories for the 2010-2011 school year. Each student focused on different parts of the yearbook such as sports, classes, clubs, activities, seniors, parent ads, and more. All design work was done electronically using the In-design and photoshop programs. Credit for the Yearbook program goes to Mrs. McGown and Ms. Van Tassel, our advisors, for all of their help with every aspect of the production. Also, a special thank you to Mr. Conrad for always supporting the yearbook project and answering all of our questions.

The Staff!

we do...

2011 Dedication

In 1994, Diane Masterson was recognized for her dedication when she was named Regional Teacher of the Year.

In Mrs. Masterson's twenty-eight years of teaching at the High School she has made a lasting impression on enumerable Nauset students. Being a dedicated teacher, she has consistently proven to the students in her English and Technology classes that the acquisition of knowledge can be compelling as well as gratifying.

At the high school, Mrs. Masterson's role goes beyond the classroom. She is an organizer, advisor and chaperone for the ski club and the Italian exchange program. Along with her husband, Bob, she has made many trips to Italy with Nauset Students and has also been host to many Italian students, welcoming them into her home. The annual Italian trip introduces students to the beauty of Italy, its culture and sites. Mrs. Masterson is an excellent chaperone, even when the students seemed to be more interested in the pigeons in the plaza than the art of the Renaissance. She also served as an advisor for Mock Trial for many years at Nauset.

Beyond the school year, Mrs. Masterson is also well-known for her involvement with the Brewster Recreation Summer Swim Program where for many summers she trained hundreds of young swimmers.

The Class of 2011, wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to Mrs. Diane Masterson.
